

NETWORKING EVENT

The Next Gen and the Arts: A New Approach to Effective Giving

Miranda Curtis

Miranda spent her executive career working in the global media and telecoms sector. On returning to the UK she developed a portfolio encompassing bookselling (Chair of Waterstones) international development (Chair of Camfed International), public policy (Foreign Office Lead NED), and the arts (Deputy Chair of the RSC). Miranda is currently a Trustee of the Institute for Government, serves on the boards of Liberty Global and Liberty Latin America, and is Chair of Garsington Opera. Miranda is a committed philanthropist with a strong personal interest in supporting women, both in the field of international development and in the performing arts.

Ida Levine

Ida Levine is a principal with Two Rivers Associates Limited consulting on public policy, strategy and governance. She serves on the Board of Directors and as Lead Expert on Policy of the Impact Investing Institute.

Ida sits on the Financial Markets Law Committee, and the Advisory Board of the UCLA Institute of Carbon Management. She was a founding Board Director of the UK Investor Forum.

Previously Ida was a Board Director and Senior Vice-President and Senior Counsel of Capital Group and also served as its Director of Public Affairs in Europe. Before Capital Group, she was European Counsel at JP Morgan Investment Management and a Partner specialising in Mergers & Acquisitions at the international law firm Jones Day (London and New York).

Ida has a keen interest in the Arts. She is a Governor of the Royal Ballet Companies. She also sits on the Board of Creative UK Investments and is a Trustee of Dancer's Career Development (DCD) and the Maria Bjornson Memorial Fund. Previously, Ida was Vice-Chair of the Royal Academy of Dance Board of Trustees, also serving as Interim Chair.

Maya Prabhu

Maya is a Managing Director for the UK Domestic and Crown Dependencies business at J.P. Morgan Private Bank. In her role, she leads a team of client advisors dedicated to helping clients define their wealth purpose and achieve their goals. Her team offers comprehensive support, from thought leadership and wealth planning to banking, investing, lending, philanthropy, and family governance.

Maya is responsible for driving the strategy and growth of the Private Bank's presence across the UK.

With nearly two decades of experience as a trusted advisor to wealthy individuals and families across the UK, Europe, the Middle East, and Asia, she brings deep expertise in family governance (processes for developing culture, teamwork and communication), next-generation engagement, family office creation, and rewarding philanthropy strategies.

Maya holds practicing certificates in Family Business Advising and Family Wealth

Advising from the Family Firm Institute (Boston, USA), a Certificate in Executive Coaching from the Henley Business School (University of Reading) and is an accredited mediator from Regents University. She is a member of the teaching faculty for the Family Firm Institute's GEN courses and for the Society of Trust and Estate Practitioner's Diploma Certificate in Private Client Advising. Maya serves as an Independent Member of the Governing Council of the University of Warwick and is a Member of the Advisory Board at Warwick Business School.

Jonathan Quin

Jonathan founded the Q Charitable Trust, which is a grant-giving foundation that supports charities in 6 areas: Medical Research (mainly Dementia Research), the Saving of Lives, People Having a Tough Time, Access to and the Advancement of Education, the Protection or Improvement of the Environment, and Music and the Arts. He is also Senior Independent Director of Stop Scams, and is a Patron and Fellow of the King's Trust. Jonathan previously co-founded the international payments business, World First, and grew it over 15 years until its sale in 2019. Jonathan now also runs Q Capital, overseeing 15 scale-up tech investments.