

The Strategy Behind the Product: Building Purpose-Driven Investment Solutions

Hilary Inglis, Head of Strategic Relationships, Octopus Energy Generation

Hilary Inglis is the Head of Strategic Relationships at Octopus Energy Generation, a specialist renewables and energy transition asset manager, and part of the OEGen's Leadership Team.

Hilary assumed this role in July 2023, bringing extensive investment and strategic relationship experience, focusing on new and existing clients to expand OEGen's relationships, delivering compelling investment solutions and strategic planning for new regions and target market segments.

Before joining Octopus Energy Generation, Hilary held senior positions working with a wide range of clients, globally. She has been extensively involved in the UK DC market over the last ten years, following her experience in the Australia.

Currently serving as the Chair of the Membership Committee at the UK Sustainable Investment and Finance Association (UKSIF).

Hilary holds an MBA from Heriot-Watt University and a BA (Hons) from Oxford Brookes University.

Theodora Hadjimichael, CEO, Responsible Finance

Theodora is Chief Executive of Responsible Finance. She joined RF in 2013 and led its policy and research work for six years – building the evidence based on CDFIs, briefing members, and helping shape the national conversation on inclusive finance.

Since becoming Chief Executive in 2019, she's championed greater investment in the sector and supported members to grow their impact in communities across the UK.

Earlier in her career, Theo worked in economic development and community finance in the US. She lives in the Cotswolds with her husband and daughter.

The Strategy Behind the Product: Building Purpose-Driven Investment Solutions

Amy Clarke, Co-founder & Chief Impact Officer, Tribe Impact Capital

Amy Clarke is a pioneering leader in the sustainable economy, with nearly three decades of experience driving systemic change across global finance, business, and civil society. She is the award-winning Co-Founder and Chief Impact Officer of Tribe Impact Capital LLP - one of the world's highest-scoring B Corporations and a multi-award-winning impact asset manager headquartered in the UK.

A trained climate and soil scientist, Amy's career spans multinational corporations, startups, NGOs, and consultancy, including leading sustainability teams at Bank of America (International) and Microsoft UK. Her boardroom experience is equally extensive, with over 15 years serving on commercial and non-profit boards. She currently serves as Co-Chair of B Lab UK and as a trustee on the global board of ClientEarth, where she also contributes to both organisations' investment and finance committees. She also sits on the Global Steering Group of the Global Ethical Finance Initiative (GEFI) based in Edinburgh.

Lars Hagelmann, Chief Operating Officer, Big Issue Invest Ltd.

Lars Hagelmann is the Chief Investment Officer at Big Issue Invest and a senior investment executive with over two decades of experience managing and scaling impact-focused investment portfolios across Europe, Asia, and the Middle East. He brings deep expertise in ESG integration, fund structuring, and strategic leadership within regulated social finance environments.

Lars has a strong track record of aligning capital with purpose, driving innovation in sustainable finance, and building high-performing teams that deliver measurable social and environmental outcomes.

His work spans public, private, and blended finance, with a consistent focus on unlocking investment for underserved communities and mission-driven enterprises.

The Strategy Behind the Product: Building Purpose-Driven Investment Solutions

Harriet Kwarteng, Director (solicitor), KPMG UK

Harriet is a Director and solicitor who supports UK and international clients on the succession of their personal and business wealth. With a background in charity law, Harriet works with corporate and private clients who wish to give something back to society through philanthropy.

Harriet has been recognised by ePrivateclient as a "Top 35 under 35" Private Client advisor in 2019 and 2020.

She was named in Chambers Ultra High Net Worth Guide 2023 as "Up and Coming" and is described as "very good, her technical skills are excellent, as is her ability to break down advice".

Prior to qualifying into law, Harriet worked at Christie's Geneva, and UBS Investment Bank in New York. She is fluent in French.

.